

LEADS Daily Briefing for September 23, 2019

Firearms Restraining Order

Effective January 1, 2019, the Firearms Restraining Order (FRO) was implemented in accordance with Illinois Public Act 100-0607. A new LEADS enter format (example below) has been developed to use for the entry of these orders and is available in LEADS 2000 > File Maintenance. (NOTE: CAD interface agencies will need to use LEADS 2000 to make these entries until their vendor has made the change in the interface system. Technical specifications for this new format have been posted to LEADS 2000 > LEADS Information > Interface Agencies). All FRO entries will remain in LEADS only(not sent to NCIC). Prior to entry an inquiry must be made to determine whether the respondent has a FOID card. If so, notification must be sent to ISP Firearms Services Bureau (CDC/KYW) via LEADS administrative message.

There are two types of Firearms Restraining Orders: emergency orders and six month orders. Like Orders of Protection, Firearms Restraining Orders may not be enforced unless they have been served. Service will be reflected in the SRV field of the LEADS record. FROs may be served via the Short Form Notification process (see Public Act 100-0607, Section 50 (c) and the Orders of Protection Short Form Notification help file).

If an accompanying search warrant is issued with the FRO, the search warrant does not get entered into LEADS.

Firearm Restraining Orders will remain on-line in a LEADS history file two years after their expiration date, after which they will be purged. FROs will be validated using the same procedures used for validating Orders of Protection.
